Why should I choose OriginLab?

At OriginLab we realize that you have multiple companies and products to choose from for your Data Analysis and Graphing needs. Here are a list of reasons why we think OriginLab is the better choice:

1. Support and Services beyond the norm
- At OriginLab, we strongly believe in providing the best possible support and services to our customers.

2. A well established product
- Origin and OriginPro are used by over 500,000 scientists and engineers around the world. The product has been in existence for 25+ years, and is published in three languages: English, German and Japanese.

3. A well established, and growing company
- Our mission is to provide data analysis and graphing software that is flexible and easy-to-use, but at the same time has a range and depth of features that scientists and engineers expect and rely upon for their needs.
